PLYMOUTH, Mass., Sept. 17.—Charles Edwin Du Bois and Edith M. L. Du Bois will rest peacefully side by side in a local cemetery.

The suave jewelry salesman who put a bullet through his head in tacit confession of his wife's murder will be buried with her in a double funeral ceremony, it was revealed to International News Service today.

Hearts that once beat with hate and fear will mingle with the same earth, beneath modest headstones giving no indication of the brutality and anguish in which they beat their last.

To Be Buried Together
"Much has happened since these two first met, but I believe they will be buried together," said Jeremiah J. McAnarney, Du Bois' attorney.

McAnarney, with Jules Du Bois, brother of the dead man, is in charge of funeral arrangements. The two bodies were apart for the last time last night, for early this morning the corpse of Mrs. Du Bois, exhumed from the cellar of the Du Bois summer camp yesterday, will be carried to the John Hall Funeral Parlor in Quincy, to join her husband's.

So does the "Corpseless Murder Mystery" produce its dead—not one but two, after eight days' search for a corpse delict that eluded dragnet, shovel, pick and sounding board in the vicinity of a lonely summer bungalow beside a pond.

Case Comes To Close
So does the most sensational murder case New England has had in years come to a close, for with the suicide of Du Bois and the discovery of Mrs. Du Bois' body in a crypt in her own cellar, Assistant District Attorney John V. Sullivan announced he had written "finis" to his investigations.

PA NEW OBSERVES

There are other places beside Wilmington avenue where lots of speeding goes on, Pa. News observes. Highland avenue looked like a race track before and after the football game last evening.

What an ideal evening it was for the first game of the season. There was just enough tang in the air to make it appreciable, both to the players and spectators.

Although the rain gauge at the U. S. weather observation station failed to show any moisture this morning, Pa. News noticed evidences of an extremely light shower this morning.

One more week of this so-called daylight savings time, and then the clocks will be changed.

Now that the wall has been completed along the Neshannock creek, the men have begun the work of laying a sidewalk and smoothing off the other portion of the ground for the cultivation of grass. Young Pa. News has been observing that this side of Croton avenue is traveled more by pedestrians than the other side of the street.

A guilty verdict was returned by a jury despite Hayes' testimony from the stand that he was not driving the car when it crashed into the rear end of a truck on May 29.

Another Bridge To Be Erected At Wurttemberg

State Highway Department
Asks That Bids Be In
By October 7

MAKES THIRD BRIDGE
IN COUNTY THIS YEAR

Another bridge across the Slippery Rock creek at Wurttemberg is to be built this year, according to plans of the state highway department. Bids for the bridge are now being asked. They will be opened on October 7.

This bridge is but a short distance west of the bridge for which the contract has already been let. It will be the third large bridge to be erected in Lawrence county this year, the other one being at Willow Grove.

According to plans for the second Wurttemberg bridge it will require the construction of approximately 1,502 feet of roadway. This will eliminate a sharp curve. The bridge is to be a double truss span, approximately 319 feet long, with an 18-foot paved cartway. Abutments and flares also to be of concrete.

The bridge is on what is known as route 440.

Speeding Up Four Party Rail Merger

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Bankers for the big four eastern railroads have been ordered by the interstate commerce commission and reconstruction corp. to put through the four-party merger immediately, the International News Service learned exclusively today.

This removes the last obstacle to consolidation and announcement of the formal agreement is expected the middle of next week.

Eastern rail heads at the meeting last week reached a tentative agreement on their differences and intimated that a complete accord would result at the session scheduled for next Friday.

Intervention of the Washington authorities clinches the merger plan and also speeds the decision.

Some Changes Made In Highway Ditches

County commissioners, with State Highway Engineer Henry Kloss and Superintendent H. W. Lightner, yesterday afternoon went over the New Castle-New Wilmington road, which is undergoing construction, and relocated some of the ditches designed to carry water from the road to adjacent property.

Work of macadamizing the road was started yesterday at the New Wilmington borough line. Limestone and tarmacadam are being used.

NEW CASTLE MEN HURT AUTO HITS MULE TEAM

Tony Ciallelo, 39, merchant of 932 South Mill street, and Pasquale Iacono, 67, also of this city, are in the Mercer hospital suffering from shock, bruises and cuts, which they sustained in an accident about 9 o'clock Friday night, when the truck they were riding in collided with a pair of mules on the highway about four miles north of Mercer, on the Mercer-Sandy Lake highway.

Earlier in the day the men had gone to collect produce and were returning from this direction after dark when they collided with the pair of mules, being driven along the road by Tom Armstrong, a farm hand on the farm of William King. The mules were almost black in color and were not discernible to the driver of the truck until almost on top of them; the one mule took fright and jumped, pulling Armstrong off the road in time to avoid being hit by the truck; the other mule was hit and knocked into the ditch; a veterinarian was called and the mule was taken to the farm but died in the night.

The New Castle men were cut and bruised in the contact and were removed to the Mercer hospital where their wounds were dressed. They will probably be able to leave the hospital in a day or two.

Grand Jury Recommends County Officials Take Reduction Of Salaries

In presentments by the Lawrence county grand jury today it was recommended that all county officials, receiving a salary of over $200 per month, take a voluntary cut of 20 per cent in salaries. The recommendation would affect the offices of treasurer, sheriff, county commissioners, and register and recorder.

Salaries in these offices are fixed by law, so that the only way that they could be reduced without legislation would be by a voluntary cut as suggested by the grand jury.

The jury also recommended that the county commissioners exempt all penalties on county and poor taxes for a period of three months. The grand jury went over the county buildings on Friday afternoon, and found them all in good shape, with the exception of a floor of one room in the county home. It was recommended that this be repaired.

Of Photographing

County Officials Say No
Contract Had Been Awarded For Job

Photographing of records in the prothonotary and register and recorder's offices will have to be opened to competitive bidding, according to a decision reached at a conference in the court house this morning.

Present at the meeting were Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers; John P. Lockhart, attorney for the county commissioners; Orville Brown, attorney for the county controller; Attorney Norman Martin, chairman of the committee of the Bar association; and Thomas W. Dickey, representing the operators of the Kendix system of transcribing.

Require Bids.
It was at first thought that under the order handed down by court the commissioners could go ahead and award the contract without bids, but this does not appear to have been the intention, and a modification of the order, requiring bids, will be made.

Under the law the county commissioners ordinarily cannot award contracts to exceed $500 without bids. There was some doubt in the minds of the commissioners as to how to proceed in view of the court order. They put the matter in the hands of Solicitor John P. Lockhart for an opinion. They then left for the state convention of county commissioners before the opinion was rendered.

Work is Started.
By the time they returned, and

Erie Conference Closing Sessions Are Near—Dr. Wilson Speaks Today

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., Sept. 17.—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, noted dry crusader, held the spotlight today as the annual Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church neared its final stages.

Coming here under the auspices of the M. E. board of temperance and public morals, Dr. Wilson was to be the principal speaker tonight at the local junior high school auditorium.

Bishop Edwin F. Lee of Singapore and Manila will speak at the anniversary exercises of the board of foreign missions Sunday. The ordination and consecration service will also take place tomorrow.

With a stirring appeal for modern churchmen to become militant and enter a crusade against the type of "government now in force, Dr. Albert Day, pastor of Christ Church, Pittsburgh, climaxed the Erie conference laymen's association Friday afternoon. Dr. Day said association members should demand that government serve humanity and not special groups.

Edgar T. Welch of Westfield, N. Y., was elected president of the Erie Conference Brotherhood. Other officers included F. A. Loveland, Corry, vice-president; Leo H. McKay, Sharon, secretary; and E. C. Mellander, Mt. Jewett, treasurer.

The conference will close on Monday with the announcement of appointments.

(Special To The News)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Well, let's see what's in the news that's fit to reprint today.

Al Smith had one of the finest, and most fearless articles in this week's S. E. Post. Why is it he is about the only politician on either side that can write a subject and you can tell where he stands?

Roosevelt is headed west. Says he is "just out to meet the folks." But he will give preference to anyone of legal age, and a registered voter.

Mr. Hoover, who originally wasn't going further west during the campaign than the Potomac, has started looking at time tables.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—France is ready to accept President Hoover's proposal for a one-third cut in armaments, Premier Edouard Herriot told the foreign relations commission of the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon.

The prime minister's announcement, entirely unexpected in view of the fact that France had headed the opposition to the Hoover proposals and had caused them to be pigeonholed, was made on the eve of his departure for Geneva where he will participate in the discussions of the disarmament conference steering committee next Wednesday.

Deputies Puzzled.
The deputies were frankly puzzled. The first reaction in the chamber lobbies was that the government either was seeking to obtain the support of the United States in its opposition to the German demand for arms equality by accepting the Hoover one-third reduction "in principle" or that it feared defeat on the German issue at Geneva and was trying to make a graceful retreat.

France, Herriot told the commission must maintain good relations with the United States and he was happy to say that they were of the best.

Recently, he said, diplomats had been extremely active in exchanges concerning the disarmament question (a reference to the German aide memoir handed the French ambassador at Berlin) but France

State Committee Backs Hoover Plan

Fails To Adopt So-Called Dripping Wet Platform At Day's Session

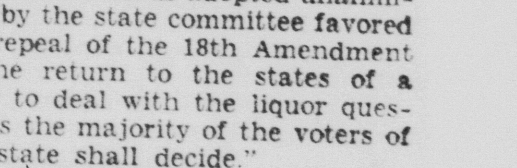

(International News Service)
ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 17.—Pennsylvania Republicans today came out for immediate repeal of the 18th Amendment and heartily endorsed President Hoover's pronouncement on prohibition enforcement. However, the state committee failed to adopt a dripping wet platform as had been predicted.

The resolution as adopted unanimously by the state committee favored "the repeal of the 18th Amendment and he return to the states of a power to deal with the liquor question as the majority of the voters of each state shall decide."

The committee advocated also immediate modification of the Volstead Act but no mention was made of the State Enforcement Act.

The party pointed with pride to the work of the recent session of the state legislature whereby economies of about $17,000,000 were effected.

GIRL ASLEEP FOR PAST SEVEN MONTHS

Case Is Baffling To Medical Men

Rouses Only For Brief Period, Recognizing Mother's Voice

HEALTH NORMAL DESPITE SLUMBERS

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Asleep for seven months, Patricia Maguire, 28, recognizes nothing but her mother's voice, it was revealed today.

When her mother calls her name the pretty girl, whose prolonged somnolence is one of the most baffling episodes in medical history, stirs slightly and opens her eyes, gazing vacantly at the ceiling for a brief moment.

Responds to Mother's Voice.

Then she closes her eyes, it was revealed. She does not respond in this manner to anything except her mother's voice.

Today marked seven months since the young woman waded off into her strange slumber, which doctors have been unable to define. Yet her health appears normal, according to one of the medical observers, Dr. Francis J. Certy, head of the County Psychopathic hospital.

SANITARY POLICE BUSY LAST MONTH

Nine homes were placed in quarantine, 11 released and 612 sanitary inspections made by sanitary police during August. Eighteen complaints were investigated, according to a report of the sanitary police activities last month as made by Dr. W. L. Steen.

They also acted as inspectors of foodstuffs and made 54 inspections at meat and fish markets, 37 at hotels and restaurants, 42 ice cream parlors and soda fountains, 26 at confectionery stores and fruit stands and eight to milk depots and pasteurizing plants.

PLAN FOR FUNERAL OF DU BOIS AND WIFE IN DOUBLE TRAGEDY

blonde with whom Du Bois had a romance before his wife's murder and who accompanied him to the Tuckahoe, N. Y., home of the couple after the woman's death, will not be questioned.

"I am convinced Miss Atwood knew absolutely nothing about this murder," the attorney asserted. "I know she is not the type of girl who would run to the arms of a man who had killed his wife."

Culprit Is Dead

"The sole culprit is dead. The motive was that he was madly in love with the Atwood girl. But we are satisfied that when she went to his camp on Great Herring Pond she did not know Mrs. Du Bois lay in the cement under her feet."

The finding of the body of Mrs. Du Bois revealed a gruesome tale of murder planned and arranged for right under the eyes of the victim herself. The body was sealed in a vault dug in one corner of the cellar two and a half feet deep, covered on four sides and sealed by a cement floor. Larry Frazier the Dubois chauffeur, helped Du Bois lay the cement floor with a platform just over the spot where the body lay, he told police, but he never knew a corpse slept under the sand.

"Du Bois said that platform was for an electric washing machine," said Larry. "He sent me to Tuckahoe to do some work from August 7 to August 14, and when I came back the cellar floor was all finished, except for that corner where they found her."

Du Bois constructed the crypt while his wife still lived with him in the house, shot her through the head with the same gun with which he killed himself yesterday, then buried her and sealed the tomb without an accomplice of any sort, police related.

SUDDEN REVERSAL IN PREMIER'S STAND CAUSES SENSATION

would only discuss disarmament at the disarmament conference at Geneva which had been called into being last February for that very purpose.

World Concerned.

He assured the deputies that he would not treat with Germany separately on the disarmament issue, as Berlin had desired, nor would he consent to see the question settled by a "committee" of the four great powers as had been suggested from London.

"The whole world is concerned by Germany's threat to increase her armaments," said the premier, "and the German claim must be considered by an international conference." Herriot's sensational announcement was made at a private meeting of the full foreign relations commission which had been summoned to discuss not disarmament but the effect abroad of the government's gigantic rent conversion scheme.

The premier did not mention the war debt question at all though he repeatedly referred to the necessity for a close understanding with the United States.

He dealt at length with the Hoover disarmament proposal and intimated that unless France could cooperate effectively with the United States the disarmament conference would result in failure.

COUNTY DECIDES TO TAKE BIDS ON BOOK PHOTO PLAN

before they had taken any action, the operators of the Kendix system had installed a photographing machine and started to work on the records in the register and recorder's office. It develops that they had called up County Solicitor Lockhart to find out if he had prepared a contract. He told them that he had not, but was making some investigation, the result of which would be communicated to the county commissioners upon their return. The Kendix people wanted to go ahead making photographs. Attorney Lockhart told them that if they did so they did it on their own responsibility, as the county was in no way bound in the matter. The men worked for several days, but the machine was idle this morning when it was learned that bids must be taken.

According to the county commissioners the estimate of cost made by the bar association committee were far too high. They expect to get the records in both the register and recorder and probatory's offices photographed for considerably under a total of $10,000.

Quick On Draw.

The shotgun charge wrote an abrupt finish to the career of the sturdy old mountaineer, survivor of a dozen shootings and whose reputation as a deadly marksman led neighbors to warn newcomers to the mountain settlement. The warnings never varied. It was:

"Never draw a gun on Illey Tate, unless you mean it." Years ago Tate and Decatur Tasker, a mountaineer, quarreled over a woman. Tasker went to Tate's home, boasting:

"I'll eat my breakfast in hell, if I don't bring him out."

Tasker broke a window with a club and started to climb through. A shot rang out and Tasker fell dead. Tate was tried for murder but was acquitted.

Led Colorful Life.

A myriad of anecdotes was told of the mountaineer today as his body awaited preparation for burial. One tale was of a duel he fought in which a horse was shot from under him.

Another was that of four bandits who entered a store he conducted on a mountainside trail. They beat Tate to the draw as he whipped out his gun. One bullet creased his skull, almost scalping him. He fell to the floor unconscious but recovered rapidly and pursued his attackers firing as fast as he could squeeze the trigger. He wounded two.

Our guess this morning may have been wrong, but a passenger car drove thru the city with all the essentials of cottage life packed on the fenders, radiator and other parts. And so we figured someone had decided to hibernate for good out of the frosty night air.

Registration For Canning Is Ended

Preparations Are Almost Completed To Start Big Project Here Next Week

Registration for the canning project which will be started in three local schools next week, has been ended and a large number of New Castle women have signified their intention of participating.

The project is being sponsored by the Garden club, Mayor's Relief committee, and American Red Cross, and it is hoped to exceed the amount of work done last fall, when over 5,000 cans of various fruits and vegetables were canned.

The canning materials and containers are being furnished by the Mayor's Relief Committee, while the Garden Club women will supervise the canning work in the Mahoning, Ben Franklin and George Washington schools.

GRAND JURY FAVORS HETTENBAUGH BRIDGE

Favorable action was taken by the grand jury on a petition of county commissioners for a bridge over Hettenbaugh run, near Lakewood. In view of the opinion of the commissioners that it would be better to build a new bridge than to repair the old one. The matter is now in shape for asking bids.

Mr. Robinson's Funeral. Funeral services of the late Charles C. Robinson were held Friday, September 16, 1932, at 2:30 p. m., at the late residence, 125 East Lincoln avenue, with Rev. W. W. Sniff in charge.

The services were largely attended by his many friends in this city and the children of the Margaret Henry Home were present in a body. The floral tributes were many and beautiful and indicated the esteem in which he was held.

The pallbearers were Ira Ramsey, L. W. McClung, Wylie McCaslin, the Rev. R. E. Hildebrand, Marcus Feuchtwanger and Edward E. Tucker. Interment was made in Beaver cemetery.

James McDonald. James McDonald, aged 64, of the New Wilmington "rail," died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sarah Eckenrode, Friday, September 16, at 3:30 a. m., after an illness of four months.

Mr. McDonald was born in Schuylkill county, December 16, 1867 and had resided in Lawrence county the past fourteen years, coming here from Mercer county. He was engaged in the coal business, owning and operating a mine on the Wilmington road.

He was a member of the Shenango United Presbyterian church and took an active part in all the church activities, having been a trustee for several years. He was a member of the I. O. O. F., being affiliated with the Greenville chapter.

He is survived by his father, Robert McDonald of Transfer, who is 91 years of age; five children: Philip of Sharpsville, Prescott of Greenville; Mrs. Sara Eckenrode, Transfer; James and Agnes, at home, and the following brothers and sisters: Robert, of Greenville; Abner of Milwaukee, Wis.; Thomas, Mrs. Jacob Zueschlag, and Mrs. J. E. Lininger of Transfer.

He was preceded in death four years ago by his wife.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. E. S. T. Sunday, September 18, from the Reformed church at Transfer and interment will be made in the Reformed cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Virginia Gordon. Mrs. Emma Virginia Gordon, aged 91, widow of Robert W. Gordon of 218 Leasure avenue, one of the city's older and better known residents, died Saturday, Sept. 17, 1932, at 12:45 a. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. White, 1605 Delaware avenue. Her death was rather sudden and unexpected.

Mrs. Gordon, who resided with her son, Louis H. Gordon, 218 Leasure avenue, had gone for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. White. As she was on her way upstairs to retire for the evening she was suddenly overcome and fell. Her death occurred a short time later, evidently due to the shock sustained in the fall. She sustained no injuries that would have necessarily caused death. She had apparently been in her usual health prior to the fall.

She was born in Steubenville, O., March 11, 1841, the daughter of Lewis W. and Mary Myers Helms. She had been a resident of New Castle for 65 years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church.

She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Tufts, wife of Dr. Stewart W. Tufts; Robert E. Gordon of Pittsburgh; William Gordon of Nevada and Louis H. Gordon of this city; also sister, Mrs. Lucille VanDyke, of this city.

Funeral services will be held Monday, Sept. 19, 1932, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of her son, Louis H. Gordon, 218 Leasure avenue, with her pastor, Dr. Walter E. McClure, in charge. Interment will be made in Greenwood Memorial Park.

Must Keep Cattle Off 'Mun' Course

Cattle Trespass According To Report Reaching City Solicitor

Cattle may not know much about playing golf, but they do know there is good grass on a golf course. What's more, they have been munching grass, if all reports are true.

But they're not going to munch any more if the owner of the cattle follows the advice of the city solicitor.

Today a communication reached Solicitor Robert White which said that some cattle got through a fence and on the course.

He will send the owner a letter advising him that the cattle must be restrained from trespassing.

COMIC OPERA HOSTILITIES

GREAT Britain and Spain once went to war over a man's ear, 'tis said. Paraguay and Bolivia have not even as good an excuse for going to war. Though they claim it is feeling over a boundary dispute it is plainly and simply a feeling for war.

Years ago there was no other way to end international disputes except upon the field of battle. Today that is one place where they never are settled permanently.

Both nations are itching for a fight. They don't want peace and seem to be tickled to death that an absurd boundary dispute gives them something to shoot and shout about. With chips on their shoulders and both eager to knock the other's off they are well matched.

Several nations have offered to mediate the controversy that the question may be settled peacefully and fairly, but the disputants will have none of it and resent this outside interference.

Perhaps Paraguay and Bolivia are not aware of it but they are acting like two belligerent schoolboys in the eyes of the rest of the world. They both need to be given a good spanking and sent to bed without supper.

If it were not for the petty squabbling of the little nations, this would be a peaceful world most of the time.

A NEW STEP FOR SAFETY

Massachusetts authorities are reported to be ready to start making a strict checkup on the tires used by motorists of that State. The State motor registrar is said to be preparing to order a motorist with badly worn tires to either buy new ones or surrender his license.

Here is an angle of the highway safety campaign that is often overlooked. Everybody knows that the driver whose machine had defective brakes or faulty headlights is a menace to safety; but we don't often stop to think that the driver with worn tires is in the same class.

A tire of that description is apt to blow out at any moment. And a blow-out, even at a moderate speed, can throw a car completely out of control and cause a disastrous wreck, as we in New Castle have ample evidence in the past few weeks.

A campaign to rule worn-out tires off the road looks like a good move to us, especially when it comes from a State that has set the pace previously in highway safety drives.

ABOLISHING K. P.

As if enough of our time-honored traditions have not already passed into limbo the regular army contemplates the abandonment of "kitchen police" duty at posts, forts and barracks within the United States. The plan under consideration is to employ civilian help to man the mop and mangle knife.

Here, however, is a tradition that will pass, if it does, unmourned, though perhaps not unking. Nary a regular army man will shed a tear over its bier. For "K. P." is a sickening thing.

Despised of men as it is, where will "kitchen police" duty find an effective substitute? You military psychologists, every sergeant challenges you to name something just as good for what it is good for. The combination of a mess sergeant, a mop and a buck private's own knowledge that he couldn't be fired and he couldn't quit achieved miracles of disillusionment. For many raw recruits it has been a baptism in real soldiering.

"K. P." never hurt anybody, but neither did it ever do anybody any good in his own estimation. It is fine discipline and no one likes discipline.

Perhaps the high command will abandon the idea. If not before it experiments a little, then after it does experiment a little.

THE PIONEER PERIOD HAS ENDED

There's bound to be, it seems to us, some kind of an emotional jar in the announcement that, for the first time in our history, more people are leaving American than are coming in.

The answer must be only one thing—hard times. This land of promise doesn't promise so much now, with the result that there are only about one-third as many immigrants as there are emigrants.

The condition, most likely, is only temporary. Yet it does bring to a full stop one of the most amazing movements of people in the story of mankind—a movement that began before the 18th century was ended and continued to the very present. And even though we have seen and read about it since our youth, we scarcely have appreciated its magnitude.

Consider the facts. At the time Washington began his first term as President, what is now the United States contained perhaps 5,000,000 people—counting all the Indians, the Spanish and French at New Orleans, and the Spanish and Mexicans in the Southwest and along the West Coast.

Today it contains more than 120,000,000 residents. In less than a century and a half an almost empty continent has filled up so thoroughly that there is no room left for ambitious immigrants from across the Atlantic. The world's most dazzling era of expansion has at last closed. The pioneer period of the United States is at an end.

In the next few decades this change is going to have profound effects on every aspect of national life. Life will be less elastic, class lines will harden and the traditional path from the log cabin to the great mansion will not be so easy.

Those are things, however, for the economists, the sociologists and the historians to discuss. At this moment, we get only the emotional side.

A period of history has come to its close and the people of the United States are beginning a brand new era.

thing in life is—
Lift!

I find it hard to describe Lift. I can not stick a pin through it or place it beneath a microscope or stain it with any dye or hold it aloft between my fingers and shout, "Here is Lift. Look at it so you will recognize it next time you see it." but I know Lift when I see Lift. You find it almost everywhere. Not always in happiness, not always in obvious beauty, nor in laughter, nor in the crowded street. But in unexpected places, too. . . . It is the something in existence that lifts it out of the mud and makes a street seem more than a row of houses, or a human being more than a complicated structure of cells, or a family more than several unrelated people. . . . You know it when you see it, too.

Sometimes it's a gay laugh that wakes you from your mournful thoughts. Sometimes a stark tragedy that would be ghastly if it were not the tale of small human beings failing magnificently.

Sometimes it's a stupendous sunset. Or a crashing storm at sea. Or a craggy, grim mountain. Or a small flower in a rocky crevice, splitting a rock. Or a man falling and getting to his knees and then to his feet, and finally staggering on again. Or patience under adversity. Or flaming resentment under that same adversity.

A mother with her child. Young health spending itself carelessly. A sparkling eye. Or an eye wet with sympathetic tears. Or a great tree in the moonlight. Or a cool, green mountain meadow. Or a leaping flame. Or a smile on a homely face. Or a little boy who doesn't know he's licked. . . . Or a painting, or a bit of knowledge or a book so true you know that genius has touched it into life. . . . A bird singing. Or an airplane going by. Or a juggler. Or a man on a high trapeze. Or a slim, nervous, intelligent horse. Or a strong old man who has endured much and bears the marks of conflict on his high-held head.

In any of these you may find Lift. Without that precious thing, Lift is pale and limp. Touched by Lift, it is a magnificent adventure, gratefully enjoyed.

ROBBIE BURNS' WAY

When Robert Burns went round

On mantel piece or chimney wall.

In lieu of gold he lived without.

Some gem of poetry he'd scrawl.

To homes which sheltered him he gave

A touch of beauty all might crave.

Despised at times by men of power.

And scorned by bigots, over-god.

He found God's love in every flower

And told of it whenever he could.

He never quit a friendly door.

But left it richer than before.

A minister, as poor as he.

Once made him welcome for the night

And found next morning, for his fee.

A prayer that only Burns could write:

A poem, never to grow old.

Purer and lovelier than gold.

Sometimes in bitterness he penned

Against the shams of pomp and pride.

But where'er he found a friend

He left what fortune can't provide.

Immortal beauty and a joy

Past Time's harsh changes to destroy.

SELFISHNESS

To say that if you please yourself

most, many others will be pleased is not a truism.

But it is true that if you please yourself you are sure of at least one person being pleased—taking for granted that the after-clap does not change your mind as to what you really want.

It is only a selfish person who thinks of him or herself first in the matter of being pleased.

The wise person tries to figure out what is best for all concerned and is only pleased when events take that course.

Too many folks think: only of themselves and their plans.

In doing they work for what they suppose to be their own interests.

Very often they find that they have frustrated their own interests by not looking out for the other fellow.

The one who is known to desire his own way all the time makes enemies.

Even his best friends go back on him in thought if not in action.

Instead of warning him of what may result from his close adherence to this rule of pleasing himself first,

very often they think best to let him take the consequence.

Only a blow squarely between the eyes wakes a selfish person.

START TABERNACLE REVIVAL SERVICES SUNDAY

First Service Sunday Night

Tabernacle Will Seat 3,000—
Plans Are All Completed

CHORUS CHOIR TO FEATURE SERVICES

The climax of the series of prayer services, which have been held in the city the past few months will be reached Sunday evening when the doors of the Tabernacle tent on South Mill street are thrown open to the public in the city-wide revival, which will hold forth for the next six weeks.

Dr. P. W. Philpott, Toronto, Canada, one of the nation's leading evangelists, has arrived in the city and will be the speaker throughout the meetings. Dr. Philpott has been in the ministry over a period of forty-eight years, having been converted when a small lad in the Salvation Army. He has followed in the footsteps of Dwight L. Moody throughout his career and at one time was pastor of the famous Moody church in Chicago.

His opening address will be given at 8 o'clock Sunday evening in the Tabernacle Tent on South Mill street.

Plans Complete
Nothing has been left undone to make the six week's revival campaign the most tremendous success of any attempt at revival that has ever been held in the city.

The tabernacle will seat an audience of over 3,000 persons and if this capacity is inadequate to the crowds, the tabernacle tent is so arranged that quickly the seating capacity can be raised several hundred.

The chorus choir will have its final rehearsal before opening, in the tent Sunday afternoon and when the five or six hundred voices pour forth in the good old tunes, lead by A. W. McKee, the meetings will get under way.

As an aid to the mothers who wish to attend these meetings each night arrangements have been made for a nursery in the Carnegie Auditorium, close by the tent, with beds, rocking chairs and competent attendants, so the small children can be left in perfect safety and comfort while the parents enjoy the meetings.

Most of the churches of the city have dispensed with Sunday evening services and all congregations will join in one large, spiritual service.

We read that Detroit is protesting against the influx of the unemployed of other cities. Can it be "I. O. U. Detroit" coming home at last to rest?—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Bonus Demand Of Legion Opposed

National Economy League Announces Opposition To Action Of Vets

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The National Economy League last night said immediate payment of the bonus "would impose an intolerable financial burden on the country" and declared itself "unequivocally opposed" to the demand of the American Legion.

In a statement issued by Archibald D. Roosevelt, secretary, the league said its position in opposition to immediate payment of the adjusted compensation certificates was based on "three fundamental reasons."

"First, because the raising of the approximately $2,300,000,000 required for immediate payment would impose an intolerable financial burden on the country."

"Second, because the demand is without fair basis or right on its merits. It is, in effect, a demand for the immediate payment of that position of the certificates represented by the interest on the credits allowed for home and overseas service."

"Third, because a yielding to this demand would mark a surrender of the interests of the public at large to the dictation of an organized minority."

"If President Rodriguez still holds to his commendable philosophy of public service," declares the BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD, "it is to be expected that he will give a good account of himself in the presidency. That he does embrace that philosophy still is indicated by a remark he made, before his elevation to the presidency, when it was suggested that he might become President. He said: 'I have the conviction that I can be more useful to my country within the industrial and constructive world.' Apparently, he was not seeking the presidency. But a man who puts the thought of how he might render the greatest service to his country before the thought of personal advancement is the kind of man who may be counted on to serve well in any post."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Registration For
Canning Will End
Monday AfternoonWomen Who Wish To Do
Canning May Sign Up
Monday At School
Annex

In order that every needy seventh ward family may be represented in the canning project which will get underway next Wednesday, the registration of names of women who wish to take part will be taken during one more afternoon.

Mrs. Richard Gwilym and Mrs. W. C. Eckenrode announce that women who have not already registered may do so on Monday afternoon between the hours of 1:00 to 4:30 at the Mahoning school annex. As this is a movement entirely separate from the co-operative sewing work, those women who have been sewing must register their names anew if they wish to take part in the canning.

This time extension for registration is being observed only in Mahoningtown, not in other sections of the city. No more names are being taken at the Red Cross headquarters.

By meeting each day to do the canning, mothers of unemployed families will be able to can enough food to help them through the winter. Cans and materials are being donated by the Mayor's Relief. The Lawrence County Garden club is supervising the work.

Bit O' Carolina
In This Garden!

Officer W. W. Walls (who patrols this beat)—The cotton in my garden is almost mature now.

Reporter—Cotton? You don't mean cotton?
Walls—Sure. I have a large patch of it at 137 Beaver street. Grows fine; some of it is four or five feet tall. I brought it up from Carolina and planted it up on May 20. My peanuts are doing quite well, too.

Reporter—Peanuts!
Walls—Yes, I have peanuts planted. Last year I got about a peck of them from my plants. But my watermelons are not doing so good. I didn't get them planted until late, so they are just about the size of my first now. They may mature, though, before the season is entirely over.

(And that, folks, is a garden which isn't going to have much competition in this part of the country!)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 17.—Agreed upon a dripping wet prohibition plank, Pennsylvania Republicans assembled here today to give formal approval to their general platform. After approval of the various planks and minor changes in the rules of the state committee a rally was held at the Fogelsville picnic grounds where the formal launching of the campaign will take place with an address by Vice President Charles Curtis.

The prohibition plank evolved by the state committee is understood to call for immediate repeal of the 18th Amendment, the Volstead Act and the State Enforcement Act.

Formal approval of the various planks without any changes is a foregone conclusion.

The regional conference of the state council of Republican women also is taking place here today in conjunction with a general mobilization of state groups of the young Republicans as organized by Gen. Edward Martin, state committee chairman.

All the various delegates and the state leaders that convened to write their party's platform in the Keystone State were to adjourn to the picnic grounds at noon where a chicken and waffle luncheon was to be held. After lunch, Vice President Curtis and Senator James J. Davis were to formally inaugurate the presidential campaign in Pennsylvania.

Neshannock Avenue
Residents Favor
Building Of Wall

Would Appreciate It, If City
Would Duplicate Wall On Their Side Of Neshannock

Suggestion that the city use its unemployed men again this winter through the medium of the Mayor's Relief in building a stone wall along the north or Neshannock avenue side of the Neshannock creek, like has been constructed through the same medium on the south or Croton avenue side, has met with the unanimous approval of the property owners along Neshannock avenue.

They are of the opinion that it would not only beautify the river bank and improve the general appearance of the district but also prove an added protection in the advent of high water.

It is probable that they will voice their opinion to that effect to members of city council in the near future.

The local cement plant received the order for 75,000 barrels of cement for the new Pittsburgh Post Office. About the time shipping started a strike was called on the post office and has tied things up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Persistent pressure against the pivotal industrial leaders, particularly U. S. Steel common and preferred, offset the earlier improvement imparted by strength in the rails and the market closed highly irregular today.

Turnover was sharply curtailed, with total sales of 724,520 shares, representing the smallest total for a Saturday in about a month. U. S. Steel common dipped to a new low on the reaction at 32 1/2 before firming up to close at 33 1/2, off a point net on the day, while continued uncertainty over the preferred dividend payment resulted in a decline of 3 1/2 points in the preferred to 75 1/2. American Can, Allied Chemical and Westinghouse were other industrial favorites to ease off in the late trading.

While demand for the rails petered out near the close in reflection of the unsettled market elsewhere along the line, leading car issues displayed a consistently firm undertone. Heavy buying was centered in such eastern rails as New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Chesapeake and Ohio on reports that the four-party merger would be completed next week. Lackawanna and Southern Pacific were also aggressively bought on a scale up.

The market as a whole, however, was permitted to drift about in aimless fashion, although support was forthcoming in the leaders on fractional recessions.

Aged Man Ends
Life Early TodayRope In Attempted Suicide
Breaks, But Skull Is Fractured In FallCORONER REPORTS
CASE AS SUICIDE

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 17.—A fractured skull as a result of an attempted suicide was the cause of the death of Steve Mondell, aged 71, about 7:40 this morning at the home of his son, John, 130 Line avenue.

The son found the body of his father in the cellar upon rising this morning.

According to Officer James Hayes and Chief of Police W. C. Morrison who were called to the scene, the dead man had been brooding over the loss of his wife the past two years. And in addition to this he was in ill health which were given as the reason for the suicide.

Upon arising this morning the younger Mondell found his father's room empty which caused him much alarm. The older man had not been of a habit to arise so early. A hurried search through the house revealed his body on the floor of the cellar.

A rope was around the neck of the dead man and one on the cellar beam. Apparently the rope broke when the suicide victim jumped from a chair. Upon falling the back of Mondell's head struck some object. Death followed within a few minutes.

An investigation revealed that the skull was fractured.

County Coroner Orville Potter was summoned and after conducting an investigation gave a verdict of suicide. The remains at the present are at the Derry Porter morgue. No funeral arrangements have been made as yet.

MERCHANTS TO PROVIDE FOR FREE AIRPLANE RIDES

New Castle citizens who have never been up in an airplane, and have always had a desire to flit through the ozone behind a humming motor, will get their desires fulfilled Sunday, October 2, at the New Castle Airport, through the operation of a number of the leading merchants of this city. It will be free-ride day for Pa New's family.

Starting Monday several of the merchants will have tickets good for free airplane rides to give out to their customers. When you buy some merchandise you ride an airplane free, fair enough.

The plane in which this free-riding will be done is a big Ford Trimotor ship, capable of holding ten passengers, and it will be piloted by very able airmen. In case of bad cross-winds on that day designated, the ship will be changed to a six-passenger Travelair.

See New Castle from the air, says C. P. Chambers, owner of the big Ford plane, and a man who has given away more free rides than any other airplane man in the country. Be sure to get your ride, and also patronize the local merchants.

All who care to ride the plane must be at the local airport on the New Bedford road not later than 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 2. No one will be registered after the designated hour.

This free ride idea has been carried out in all of the large cities along the Atlantic coast and in many other Pennsylvania cities.

New Castle Circle Members Are Busy

Number Of Events Draw Interest Of Members Of Circle No. 5

Among the recent lodge events of the week was the recently held session of New Castle Circle No. 5, Protected Home Circle. Following the business items Guardian Katharine Cowles presented a brief but unusually interesting program, when the readings of Billie Parker and Joseph Fletcher were features of the program. During the business session arrangements were completed for the Junior Circle's attendance at the Junior rally of New Castle, Sharon, Ellwood, with the Junior Circle of Grove City as hosts, held at Grove City on Thursday evening, Sept. 15.

A large number from the local circle accompanied the Juniors, who with their counsellor, Hildred Back, and assistant counsellor, Helen Ray, had charge of the evening's program.

Supreme officers from Sharon were special guests and it was estimated that nearly 300 junior and senior members of the order attended the rally, which closed with a splendid lunch. The program presented by the New Castle Juniors was unique and excellently rendered, as follows:

New Castle High Defeats Union 27 to 0

NEW CASTLE TEAM LOOKS IMPRESSIVE

Nickum, Uram And Kolodjeski Give Fine Exhibition Of Ball Carrying

Union Puts Up Scrappy Game In Face Of Big Odds, Fine Crowd At Opener

New Castle High's big "Red Hurricane" swept a doughty and hard fighting little Union High football squad off their feet at Taggart Field last night to open the 1932 grid campaign with a 27 to 0 victory. The galloping trio namely Nickum, Kolodjeski and Uram paraded over the greensward of the beautiful stadium in great fashion. Even in defeat Union looked very good. They put up a courageous fight against heavy odds.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh presented a football team last night that was drilled to perfection. Outside of the customary first game nervousness, the boys played good football. The line, a big powerful staff charging forward wall opened holes in the Union line that allowed the backs to rifle through time after time. Speed is the keynote of the team this year. New Castle has had bigger teams, but none any faster.

Backfield Is Fast.
In "Whitey" Nickum, Johnny Uram and Kolodjeski the red and black team has three threats who will be heard from as the season advances. It was the fleet-footed and agile Uram who scored the first touchdown for New Castle with the game only about three minutes old. It was a 35-yard gallop through a broken field that resulted in the first seven points. Nickum added the extra-point by placement and a suddenness that stunned the fans and Union as well. Sort of took the starch out of the Union Township players. They fought back gamely, but could gain but one first down through that big New Castle line.

Union Fights Hard.
Had Coach Bridenbaugh left his first team backfield in the game all four quarters, it undoubtedly would have been a larger score, but at that the "pony" backfield composed of Patsy James, Freddy Lane with Kolodjeski as a steady influence came near scoring in the fourth quarter, and only over-anxiousness on the part of Patsy James caused the fourth quarter to be scoreless. Union put up their best fight in the first and last periods.

New Castle's second touchdown came at the start of the second period. When the whistle ended the first quarter, the ball was resting on the 5-yard line. Uram, Nickum and Kolodjeski did a lot of ball carrying in that first quarter.

Kolodjeski Scores.
Kolodjeski replaced Rambo at quarter for New Castle in the second period began. On the first play with Uram calling signals, Kolodjeski galloped at center and crossed the line for the second touchdown. Nickum kicked the extra-point with ease. New Castle led 14 to 0.

New Castle kicked off to Union after the touchdown, and regained the ball when Phillips forced to punt. The ball went over the goal line and was New Castle's on the 20-yard line. Then began a series of bucks at the line that saw Nickum and Uram pecking away for one first down after another, until the 35-yard line was reached and then the old strategy was called into play and "Whitey" Nickum whipped a pass to Tomalello at end that traveled 33 yards and Tomalello stepped over the line with the third touchdown. It was a beautiful pass, well executed and well taken by Tomalello. Nickum's try for the extra-point was wide of the bar. New Castle 20, Union 0.

Locals Retain Ball.
Union kicked off to New Castle after the touchdown and New Castle held the ball until the end of the first half. The New Castle team had the ball on the 13-yard line and going strong when the goal ended. New Castle 20, Union 0. Union's team was far from beaten yet, and stayed in their fighting hard, even with three touchdowns against them. Captain Snizek was a tower of strength to the Union forward wall. He was well backed up by Whiting and George.

Kominie Goes Over.
Phillips kicked off to New Castle at the start of the third quarter and New Castle kept the ball for quite a spell, with Nickum racing around end for 35 yards, on a pretty play. Kolodjeski heaved a pass to Tomalello which was good for a few yards. Kolodjeski went to the 13-yard line on a stab through center. Kolodjeski went to the 3-yard line, and then he fumbled and Union recovered within the shadows of the goal posts. Allen replaced Whiting for Union on the line. Phillips punted to New Castle out of bounds on the 15 yard line.

Nickum went through to the 10-yard line on a tackle thrust. Union again bucked up that front line and held New Castle for downs with the goal line just a few yards away. Thomas the New Castle end intercepted a Union pass on the 10-yard line, and Kominie went for a touchdown on the next play. Nickum kicked the extra-point. New Castle 27, Union 0.

Union Line Holds.
Phillips again kicked off for Union and New Castle raced the ball to the 10-yard line as the third quarter ended.

Union took the ball again on downs with their back to the wall and Phillips kicked out of danger. At this point Coach Bridenbaugh sent in his "pony" backfield of James and Lane, and leaving Nickum in the game. Kolodjeski and James worked the ball to the 3-yard line. James at center was good for two more. James fumbled on the 3-yard line and Snizek of Union recovered. Phillips punted from behind his own goal line out of danger.

The New Castle subs began filtering in. Pascarella replaced Radskowski on the line. Kolodjeski swung to the 20-yard line for a first down. James went to the 4-yard line. New Castle drew a 5-yard penalty. A bad pass from center lost about 15 yards for New Castle with Lane recovering. Union drew their first penalty of the game a five yard offense. Lane went to the one-yard line on a nice end run, in which he fleet-footed it and outsped the Union line, only to be stopped by Buccia the Union quarter.

The whistle blew and the game was over just when the New Castle team backfield was headed toward that coveted goal line.

Outstanding on the line for New Castle were Radskowski, DeCarbo, Tomalello and Duff. On the Union line the work of Captain Snizek stood out head and shoulders. The work of Whiting, Endrees and George was also good.

That New Castle "triple threat" backfield with Nickum, Uram and Kolodjeski was just too good that was all, with Rambo, James and Lane in supporting roles.

A summary of the game shows that New Castle tried four passes, making good two of them, one for a touchdown. Union tried two passes and had them smothered. In penalties New Castle drew 55 yards, while Union had but five.

Coach Bridenbaugh will have a lot of polishing up to do before next Friday.

Nunn And Preston Are Playing Today

W. M. Nunn and Roy Preston, who have advanced to the semi-finals in the Municipal championship, are playing off their match at the Muncy course today.

The winner of this match will meet Bob Thompson of Ellwood City in the final match of the season, which should draw a large gallery.

Reaction of three races when the future looks dark. The Englishman cheers up, the Frenchman howls for help, the American sits and cries.

Classy Horses To Race Here

Cream Of Fair Circuits Entered In Local Race Meet

HARNESS RACES START WEDNESDAY

Only a few days remain until Harry Goff gives the word at the New Castle fair track and when Wednesday arrives there'll be a galaxy of nifty trotters and pacers ready to start in a harness race meet to last three days.

Although the entries will not close until Saturday midnight, Clyde Shoaff says that not only will there be big fields but also classy horses. In fact Shoaff declares that included among the entries is the cream of the horses that have been cavorting around the fair tracks this summer and he's glancing forward to a spectacular meet.

The races will start according to Eastern Standard time. According to the plans arranged there'll be no delay in getting the horses from the barn and the starter will get 'em away from the wire.

Daily work is being put on the track and if rain proves conspicuous by its absence there'll be a fast, clear track and with every heat a race the harness race fans will see some good events.

There'll be three races daily for three days. There'll be trots and paces and with the cream of the fair circuits entered lovers of pacers and trotters will look eagerly forward to Wednesday.

With eliminations in the Castle Tennis League moving along according to schedule, most of the survivors will be in the third round by the first of the week, three being eliminated Friday evening. O. Riley won from Kennedy by default, 1-0. Connolly won from H. Sage, 6-4, 6-3. Carr defeated T. Jones 6-2, 0-6, 6-3. Saturday evening at five Dan Carroll and Bus Reiber meet, and at 6:30 George Massie and Russ Young tangle.

Sunday schedule: 12:30 p. m., Honkonen vs. Rose; 2:30 p. m., Carr vs. winner of Sargent-Larive match; 3:30 p. m., winner of Carroll-Reiber vs. winner of Dess-Morrow; five p. m., winner of Russo-Sage vs. Ueber-McClmonds; 6:30 p. m., winner of Calvert-Brincko vs. Massie-Young match.

Monday schedule: five p. m., Connolly vs. Riley; 6:30 p. m., Providence vs. winner of Honkonen-Ross match.

Bands Add To Opening Game

New Castle And Union High Bands Play At Taggart Field

GOOD SIZED CROWD FOUND IN STANDS

"Twas a balmy summer's evening and a goodly crowd was there." Now there was a poem as a poem, neighbor, but in this instance the opening line is merely a poetical way of getting into the fact that a football game as you might say, if you were asking. The football game at Taggart stadium, if you want the details and the account of the game, will be found in other columns on this page.

Overhead, a moon. Not unusual to have a moon of course, and it really should be overhead, but there it was, big and bright, and just hanging for some song writer to immortalize it with a few well chosen lyrics. And for the benefit of the near-sighted gentleman down in the third row, there wasn't any eclipse of the moon either. That was a blimp that passed over the field, containing McKees Rocks scouts perhaps.

Firemen's Parade.
As for the football team that carries the ball for New Castle this season this season it has the appearance of a well polished fireman's parade. You'll remember those old time parades when the boys wore red shirts and helmets. Red signifies danger and this year's model of the Bridenbaugh eleven means danger for somebody if our guesses are worth a dime a dozen.

Silent gear, free wheeling and a fast pickup, that's the team in an automobile sense and the boys we made two weeks ago about it looking like a football team is still 100 per cent.

A crowd was not so bad either, and if you want a rough guess, it looked like about 3500. The Union high brought a band of loyal supporters along and the school band that tooted away with as much gusto as though the team was out there scoring a flock of touchdowns. Plenty of spirit among the fans even though they were a little more of the "get it and get it" type. A good time was had by all. A good time was had by all. A good time was had by all.

High Band Good.
New Castle's band looked like the annual convention of bandmen. Must have been 75 pieces out there blaring away and whatever it has been done, the band is better right now than it was in mid-season a year ago. And when they played "Happy Days Are Here Again" you could feel them coming on.

As a premiere event the game was just what the doctor ordered. The weather was perfect at least for the spectators; the teams were clean and the gridiron looked as though someone had spread a huge emerald carpet out there.

A perfect night, taking it by and large, if that's how you take your evenings. A little more oil in the bearings, a bit of tightening of parts here and there, a little of the brilliance worn off those red uniforms and the boys will be in there showing you things.

Yes, sir, it sure looks like we might be set to enjoy our football this season.

All-Stars Will Organize Team

New Castle All-Stars football team will have a meeting Sunday, Sept. 17, at the home of Kenneth Donegan, 140 Leasus avenue, for the purpose of organizing a football team for the fall campaign. The All-Stars hope to take the field in a few weeks with a fast combination.

The following players are asked to report at the Donegan home at 8:15 p. m.: Wrona, Hib Reynolds, Patsy Augustine, Dave Leishman, Bill Caven, Fred Hilom, Harold Workman, Norman Nocera, Tub Blackford, Bartley, Dario Baptiste and Hal Ingram. Any teams desiring games should call 4022 and ask for Bill.

Mahoning And Scarazzo Clash
Second of the seven-game series between Scarazzo, Lawrence County loop winners, and Mahoning A. A., winners of the Twilight League flag, got under way at Centennial field this afternoon. Scarazzo won the first game, 2 to 1.

COLONIAL WINS FROM EDENBURG
Colonial won from Edenburg, 11 to 3, on the Edenburg field yesterday. Linton permitted only three hits. Eleven were made of Ross, Dexter and Ripple. Leonard and Axe puled doings.

Cuba's Showing Pleases Coach

Cuba And Hoel Surpasses Coach Sutherland's Expectations

CAMP HAMILTON, WINDBER, Pa., Sept. 17.—Now that the first full week of camp is over the Pitt Panthers are down to the really serious work of perfecting the 1932 attack, an attack which is potentially strong and will be the most spectacular in Pitt history.

The nucleus of a sensational attack is on hand in the persons of Paul Reider and Warren Heller, brilliant halfbacks, and Izzy Weinstock and Bobby Hogan, the other two starting halfback members. Jock Sutherland has two good ball handlers.

Paul Cuba and Bobby Hoel are proving to be better offensive tackles than Sutherland has dared to hope for, and sophomore Ken Ormiston appears to be a natural Pitt guard, carrying his 175 pounds around ahead of ball carriers with telling effect.

New Castle Rotary Wins Golf Event

Interesting Competition Is Staged With Butler Rotarians

Members of the New Castle and Butler Rotary clubs engaged in a friendly golf competition at the New Castle Field club course Friday afternoon.

The principal competition between the members of the two clubs was a medal stroke contest in which the New Castle Rotarians defeated their Butler Rotary friends by just six strokes. New Castle had a total of 1086 to 1092 for the Butler group.

There was also a blind bogey contest in which all participated, the members selected being between 70 and 80 and 75 the number drawn. Dr. J. R. Golf League To End Season Soon

Next Week's Battle On Municipal Links Will Be Last Of Season

Next Thursday evening the New Castle Golf League will wind up its first season on the local links, when the teams will lock horns at the Municipal course.

The league, which started out somewhat as an experiment, has proved quite successful and no doubt next year will find it getting away to an early start with many more teams seeking admission.

It is likely that a meeting of the representatives from the various teams will be held following the match next Thursday to plan a little feed and get together at the close of the season.

The last week's schedule follows: Bell Telephone vs. Dentists; Pennsylvania Power vs. Reynolds, Summers and McCann; Rieck-McJunkin vs. S. S. Merchants; Shenango vs. News; Pennsylvania Engineering vs. Pennsylvania R. R. vs. Blair Strip Steel.

Correct this sentence: "I've never lived in that region," said the wise guy, "so I don't profess to know how the people there should solve their problems."

Westminster Opens Season With Defeat At Hands Of Duquesne Eleven

TITANS PUT UP STIFF BATTLE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—Duquesne's "Night Riders" ran over the greensward of Forbes Field under the lights last night in the first game of the season and upset a hard fighting Westminster College team 20 to 0. The United Presbyterians ran up at New Wilmington put up a fine game, but lacked the finesse of the Dukes.

The Dukes tallied the first touchdown late in the first period with De Luca throwing a forward pass to Pawlina. The Titans stiffened in the second quarter and held the Dukes scoreless.

Duquesne broke into the scoring column again in the third quarter when Zannelli crashed his way over from the two-yard stripe. The Dukes final tally came in the fourth period when Pawlina again grabbed a pass, this one from Larry Sullivan and raced 20 yards to the goal-line. Outstanding in the Westminster backfield was Bob Scarbrough whose punting set the Dukes back time and time again when the Titans could not gain through the line. Sillander at end also played well for the Titans. The Westminster team put up a surprising resistance to the Layden coached team.

Gabby Hartnett Helps Cubs Add Pennant Nail By Socking Home Run

LEFTY GROVE WINS HIS 24TH VICTORY

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Charley Grimm, manager of the Cubs, who claims to be something of an amateur magician, has pulled a genuine home run hitler out of the hat as a rival attraction to Ruth, Gehrig & Co. in the world series.

The slugger is none other than Gabby Hartnett, the team's megaphone man. The comical catcher started the Cubs on the road to a circuit club yesterday.

Grove Wins 24th.
Lefty Grove, who is anxious to lead the American league again this year in games won and also in strikeouts, led two Yankee pitchers for the lead in both departments in hurling the Yankees to a 3 to 2 decision over Bump Hadley of the St. Louis Browns. The machine-like mountaineer hung up his 24th victory, tying Vernon Gomez, and also tied Charley Ruffing in the race for strikeout honors.

Jimmy Fox went hitless. Dale Alexander, his rival for the league batting title, also failed to get a safe hit although the Red Sox drubbed Cleveland, 6 to 2, behind the pitching of "Pokey" Ivy Andrews, former Yankee.

General Alvin Crowder of the Senators turned in the nitching classic of the day, holding Detroit to three hits and winning 8 to 3.

The veteran Wiley Moore and Danny MacFayden held the White Sox to a total of five hits, the Yankees winning 4 to 1.

Other teams were rained out.

Mountaineer Direct won the 2:17 pace in straight heats. Harvest took the mixed 2:12 pace and 2:12 trot in the last day's racing at Waynesburg. The running races were won by Zachry and Gloaming Bell. Racing here starts next Wednesday.

Beaver Falls opened the season yesterday by defeating the Alumni, 14 to 0. Both touchdowns were scored on forward passes. Scott High defeated Munhall, 27 to 0.

Tommy Goodman eliminated Francis Oumet at Five Farms course, Baltimore, 4 and 2, yesterday and won the right to oppose Ross Somerville, five times Canadian champion, who beat Jess Guilford, 7 and 6, in the final fight for the amateur golf championship.

Canadian And Mid-West Golfer Will Battle 36-Holes For Amateur Title

By DAVID J. WALSH

FIVE FARMS, Md., Sept. 17.—Before tonight's final, either C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, a Canadian, or Johnny Goodman, an American, will be the amateur golf champion of the United States for 1932. They meet in the 36-hole final round morning and afternoon—a couple of missed step-chess moves have outlived all heirs to become nearest of kin and inherit the family plate.

Fair Grounds Is Busy Place

Race Horses, Concessionaires And Stock Exhibits Already Arriving

SEE INDICATIONS OF GREAT FAIR

With 78 harness race horses entered in the race events of the New Castle fair on September 21, 22 and 23 and the entries still open until Saturday evening, there is every indication that there will be more than 100 head of fine bred race horses at the fair grounds next week. They came in with a rush Friday and Friday night there were already 50 head of race horses stabled on the grounds. Indications are that there will be so many race horses here for the three day card that there will be extra race events added to the card. The feature of the race card will be the three-year-old trotting and three-year-old pacing events. The pacers are expected to do the track here in 2:10 or better in view of the fact that during the past week some of them have made a mile in 2:11 on a poor track. The concessionaires also flocked into the fair grounds on Friday in such numbers as to indicate that a record number of people can be provided with eats and various forms of amusement without the least trouble. The stock exhibits, which give promise of being exceptionally large and fine this year, will start coming in on Sunday and will continue to come in on Monday and Tuesday. The rodeo, an outstanding feature of the fair, will arrive Sunday, and when it comes Thelma Warner, champion cowgirl; Jesse Coates, who rides 'em high and handsome; Lloyd Schermerhorn, a foremost champion of the rope; Miss Florence and her highly educated dancing horse "Troupier"; and Cy Perkins, famous rodeo clown.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

After seeing two football games yesterday afternoon and last night we can agree that the football season is opened. Both home teams won, Shenango and New Castle, the weather was perfect and after we get a bucket of dust out of what was once a fair suit of clothes, things will be different.

Dropped around to East New Castle in the afternoon to see the Shenango lads open their season and they opened it in a way that nobody (from Shenango) could criticize. They were supposed to lose, but they didn't, all of which proves something or other.

After playing on the field they have, a youngster would have to be tough to survive the ordeal. But the kids played over it for an hour and the total skin lost from noses and other sections of the anatomy wouldn't be more than a yard.

You can imagine our embarrassment at the night game. Here we hadn't realized that the straw hat season had slipped right out of our hand and the five or six of us that were wearing hay models felt as conspicuous as Lady Godiva must have felt.

Not that we agree that hat seasons should be governed by date, any more than falling in love should be governed by statute. As long as there is any mileage left, why not use it? But no, some fashion arbiters up and says straws are out on September 15 and 50,000,000 people obey. And 50,000,000 people (not Frenchmen) can't be wrong.

All of which leads to the suspicion that some of those last year's models of felt (and they've been last year's models for quite a spell) will be dusted off the back shelf and oiled up again for another heat.

For a long time we've been wondering what caused the look of inward pain upon the face of the Lexicographer of this column, Professor Homer C. Drake. The answer is no secret now. Homer has discovered some errors in English in the column in the past ten weeks. Fawcay that old thing.

Misplaced words, split infinitives, faulty construction or the transposition of gender has the same effect upon Homer as a basket of green apples. He isn't the same until he corrects the deficiency and the chief complaint he has is that this column referred to the Moon in the masculine.

's terrible' sez Homer, "anybody who knows anything, knows that the Moon is referred to as her." All of which is undoubtedly true, but why? And anyway what about the Man in the Moon?

The high school band really comes in for an extra hand for last night's performance. The youngsters seem to be "on" this year and they seem to have hammered out their melodies last night was not hard to take. And here's a secret, they still have the Maine Stein Song.

The Wilmington lads, Westminster to you, didn't fare so badly down under the candelabras in Pittsburgh last night. They lost by a twenty to nothing score, but nobody expected they had a chance to win. That's only three touchdowns.

Out on the Slippery Rock Creek, at the summer camp of B. F. Butler there's a guest concerning whom Mr. Butler isn't so sure. The guest is a brown and black spotted fox terrier that is believed to have gotten lost from some party some time ago and since then has been making his home with the Butlers. Mr. Butler believes the pup may be some youngster's pet.

Unsolved Murders Puzzling Police

Homicide Cases Are Growing At An Alarming Rate In Schuylkill County

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Schuylkill county has had eight unsolved murders in the last seven years.

The most recent homicide riddle was the slaying of Anthony Ksinovka, 15-year-old high school student of Shenandoah, whose body was found in a valve house near Shenandoah City colliery July 15 by John McCaughy, an officer of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company. The boy's head had been bashed in. Authorities are at a loss in attempting to reach a solution of the crime.

One of the county's most widely discussed murder mysteries was the "Broad mountain torch mystery". On April 5, 1925, a berry picker had his attention attracted to a number of crows. He approached the spot and found the body of a charred woman. It was being devoured.

The case leaped to front pages throughout the country and scores of mothers from all sections of the nation, who had daughters missing, were lured to the scene, but none could identify the remains. The head of the girl is preserved in alcohol at the Fountain Springs hospital and it is hoped that some day, through some freak of fortune, positive identification may be made.

Another perplexing case was the Wesner murder at Tower City. On the evening of March 18, 1929, George Wesner disappeared after his brother was shot and killed. George has never been heard from.

State police worked on the murder for a long time but without result. The mountains were combed but no clue was unearthed. Some said that George loved the mountains and open spaces and that he would be found living the life of a hermit in the woodlands. Others thought that possibly he fell into a mine breach while wandering.

Stanley Wilkoskie of Norwegian township is still a fugitive from justice, charge of murder hanging over his head for the death of John Bolinger Bowers, who was murdered in April, 1931.

The police were notified at Pottsville on the night of the crime, but because the scene was beyond the city limits the police were without power to enter the jurisdiction. The case was not investigated by authorities until the following day.

Some time during the night of May 16, 1932, an argument arose during a card game in Mahanoy City, and Michael Waak of that place was shot down in cold blood and another man was wounded. Blaza Masanovich of Mahanoy City walked out of the place and has not been heard from since. He is wanted for the crime.

Another of these eight murder victims was William Laughlin of Centralia, whose body was found on the porch of a bungalow near an amusement park by state troopers in the latter part of 1930.

Several days before the body was discovered, his disappearance was reported to the police. It was thought that he was murdered with robbery as the motive.

On the night of October 2, 1931, a man and a woman were shot down at the Corn Field Inn not far from Lakeside and Lakewood. It had been thought that those responsible for this double murder were also implicated in the killing of Al Jannetti of Wilkes-Barre, who once operated the Ringside Inn, a short distance from the Corn Field Inn. No light at all ever was shed on this crime.

Another death shrouded in mystery was that of Thomas McCormick of Pottsville, whose body was found along the abandoned state highway in North Mannheim township, near the Cotton club. Police advanced the opinion he was the victim of a hit-run motorist.

Militant Drys Score Judge Bonniwell's Stand

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Dry leaders today scored the action of Municipal Judge Eugene Bonniwell in Philadelphia in refusing to send a prohibition law violator to jail because "the whole sentiment of the country is that prohibition is a failure."

The judge's reference to the fact that both major political parties adopted "wet" platforms only increased the ire of the militant drys. Militant wets, on the other hand, said that while the Philadelphia case is unusual it reflects the widespread attitude of officials and the people.

Senator Sheppard (D) of Texas, co-author of the 18th amendment, who has remained silent on prohibition as a political issue, took the judge to task.

"In my judgment a judge should enforce any law rigidly as long as it is on the statute books," he said.

"It is the duty of a judge to enforce the law," said E. B. Dunford, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

Refus S. Lusk, legislative agent of the militant crusaders, took a different view.

"Judge Bonniwell's action is merely a judicial expression of four out of five of his countrymen, who believe in not abide by prohibition," he said.

The Rev. E. C. Dinwiddle, secretary of the board of temperance and other dry organizations, declared: "Prohibition is not only the law of the land but is a constitutional mandate and it is not for a judge, simply because he is agitating for repeal, to refuse to enforce it."

"The attorney-general paid his respects to that policy which the wets of the country would like to see adopted. There are a good many hurdles to be gone over before there is any legal return of liquor in the United States."

Attorneys in the justice department remained silent, but pointed to the speech Attorney-General Mitchell made recently in which he declared that he would continue to enforce the prohibition law regardless of the attitude of political parties toward it.
